FALANX Wire

The lightest carabiner of the FALANX series for quickdraws or as a lightweight material carabiner: The wide cross section in the vertex protects against abrasion. Annoying "snagging" of the nose is avoided by a "protective shield". A lightweight without compromising comfort.

- H-profile design for a balanced relationship between strength and weight
- Protective shield over the nose prevents the wire gate or nose from getting stuck (bolt hangers, rock, webbing, etc.)
- Wire gate closure saves weight and prevents whiplash effect
- The geometry of the carabiner ensures optimum load distribution on the main axis
